NOTICE.

Owing to increased cost of printing, and in order to comply with the Government's demand to save paper, the College authorities have regretfully decided to omit the rules and terms for the admission of pupils, the list of pupils in residence, the statements as to the organ, pianoforte tuning and physical departments, and the general organisation and course of instruction. Full information on these matters will be furnished on application.

WHAT IS THE COLLEGE? 1

WHAT IS THE COLLEGE?
WHAT DOES IT ACCOMPLISH?

The College, founded in 1872, is an institution exclusively for the Blind. It is quite undenominational in character. Its object is to train the Blind to earn their own living, and to render them independent, self-reliant citizens. Incredible as it may appear, this is an object which the College has succeeded and does continually succeed in accomplishing, and there are now no fewer than 600 former pupils earning their own living.

It was founded for the poor, but the instruction and training have proven so efficient that the wealthy are glad to send their children also. As, however, the educable Blind without means outnumber the well-to-do by at least 11 to 1, the College has always had a severe financial struggle.

84·4 per cent. of the graduates are filling their place in the world as organists and teachers of music, pianoforte tuners, clergymen, school teachers, shorthand typists, etc. (See pp. 16, 17.) Without the College training many of them would still be helpless and hopeless and a permanent charge on the rates. The College is therefore an economic asset to the community, and should receive whole-hearted and generous support.

As originally it arose, so it has continued by voluntary unendowed effort. The College is in urgent need of funds to continue its good work. You therefore who can see, will you not help the Blind and give them the interior light of intelligence and hope to gain their livelihood?

It is considered a grand and noble act to endow a College for the Sighted. Is it less noble to do so in the case of the Blind?

The war has hit the College badly. £12,000 is required to enable the Carnegie grant to be secured, and lay the foundation of a permanent endowment. It should ever be remembered that it is cheaper to educate the Blind than to support them as paupers, while the moral and physical benefit which is given to any individual by training him to become a self-respecting citizen is an asset which cannot be over-estimated.

"Help me to need no help from men
That I may help such men as need."

SOME OF "THE FIRSTS" WHICH HAVE BEEN GAINED BY THE COLLEGE.

1. Pianoforte Tuning, 1873.—A fuller and more comprehensive form of Training than had ever yet been given in this country.

2. Physical Training, 1873.—All forms of physical training according to the Swedish, German, British and American systems.

3. Dramatic Performances, 1881.—Mendelssohn's "Son and Stranger" was given in this year with only two seeing people in the cast. So much success was achieved that a Committee in Glasgow paid the expenses of the Party to give a performance in the St. Andrew's Hall of that city. Enough money was raised by these performances to print the Cathedral Psalter in Braille. All forms of acting are of the greatest value to blind people, and greatly assist in helping them to overcome stiffness of movement and awkward mannerisms. Since 1881 there have always been annual performances.

4. Kindergarten, 1882.—The first School for the Blind to open this particular branch of education.

5. Swimming and Life-Saving, 1883.—Through the liberality of the late Dr. T. R. Armitage, a Bath 55ft. long, 25ft. wide, and from 3 to 6ft. deep, was added to the College equipment. The Royal Life Saving Society was founded in 1891, and in 1892 five boys were successful in gaining their Proficiency Certificate. Since that date, 38 Certificates and 16 Medallions have been won.

6. Cycling and Roller Skating, 1887.—Eight-in-hand and twelve-in-hand cycles were purchased, and in addition to thoroughly touring over the roads of Surrey and Kent, journeys were repeatedly taken to Brighton and back, to Birmingham and to Derby.

Roller-Skating still continues to afford one of the most pleasing and healthful recreations at the College, while the tests of the National Skating Association for Great Britain have been frequently passed.

7. Typewriting 1887, Shorthand 1898.—Though typewriting and shorthand were started prior to these years at Birmingham, the College was the first to draw up and arrange a scheme of work which would qualify students to earn a living as professional typists and shorthand writers.

8. Training College, 1895.—The Board of Education sanctioned the opening of a Training College Department for the training of blind people to become teachers. As a result, graduates have been employed as teachers at Birmingham, Brighton, Glasgow, Newcastle, Nottingham, Southsea and other Institutions.

9. Examinations of the Royal Academy of Music and Royal College of Organists, 1901.—This was the first year in which these examinations were undertaken. To date, 83 graduates of the College have obtained organ appointments in all parts of the country. 37 have gained the Associateship and 20 the Fellowship of the Royal College of Organists. The following prizes have also been won :—

Lafontaine Prize, Fellowship..	Henry Newell ..	July, 1916.
,, ,, Associateship	Victor Spanner ..	,, 1907.
,, ,, ,,	Sydney Anstey ..	,, 1910.
Sawyer Prize	Andrew Fraser ..	,, 1913.
Turpin Prize, Fellowship ..	Wilfrid Kershaw	,, 1914.

10.—Degree of Mus. Bac., 1910.—Victor Spanner; he was the first pupil who obtained this Degree while a student of the College, though two other graduates gained the distinction many years prior to this date, after leaving the Institution.

Report of the Executive Committee

Since the foundation of the College, no year has ever opened more inauspiciously for its prosperity than the year 1916. The Committee were still owing £2,000 for the new Pianoforte Tuning Building, and in addition to a falling off in donations and subscriptions due to the war, were further handicapped with a Bankers' Loan of £3,000. In October, however, the College was honoured by a visit from the Vice-Chairman and other members of the Carnegie United Kingdom Trust, who subsequently, in a letter to the Principal, stated the Trustees had "satisfied themselves that the work of the College is national in character and meets the need of blind students from all parts of the United Kingdom, that the work is efficiently conducted and worthy of the fullest support from all quarters." The Trustees therefore decided to make an offer which would help to secure to the College, "a position of stability for the future," while leaving it dependent, in certain measure, upon annual subscriptions and donations, since "in that way a stimulus to efficiency is given and the work of the College is kept prominently before the eyes of the Public." Financial Position.

The Carnegie Trustees formulated the offer of a grant of £12,500 on condition that a sum of £25,000 was raised from other sources towards the endowment of the College, the offer to hold good until December 31, 1918. Carnegie Trust Offer.

Lord Lamington, Chairman of the Governing Body of the College, Lord Burnham, Hon. Treasurer, and the Rt. Hon. W. Hayes Fisher, P.C., M.P., Member of the Governing Body, gratefully accepted, "full of hope that the Nation's compassion for the Blind may take this practical way of assisting them."

It is recognised that the times are not propitious for appealing to the benevolent except for purposes connected with the war, but it may be pointed out that Institutions for the Blind and the helpless are sufferers by the war. "When we couple the Blind with the helpless, we beg the Nation to understand that 50 per cent. of the 30,000 blind subjects of His Majesty are not helpless merely because they are blind, but because the Nation does not find the financial means of teaching them by the only methods which render them productive and independent members of the community."

The whole sum required for the efficient training and employment of the Blind is a very insignificant proportion of the national expenditure; yet it has proved impossible to procure more than a small portion of it, and that only by constant begging. The fact that a Body like the Carnegie Trustees, in whose judgment the public places confidence, has satisfied itself that "the work of the College is national in character, and that it is efficiently conducted and worthy of support from all quarters," ought to and doubtless will go far to obtain for the Institution the £25,000 for which appeal is now made. "The extreme necessity of this financial assistance can be best appreciated by the statement that out of the 600 graduates who have thus far been sent out into the world from the College, only six out of each 100 were the children of parents who could have afforded them this self-supporting education. No blind man can fight for his country—his affliction is a barrier. But the College education and training does enable blind people to fight against their heavy handicap and make themselves independent citizens instead of being passengers in a State boat.

Having regard, however, to the very pressing needs of the College, the Carnegie Trustees generously stated that if £5,000 could be secured not later than February, 1917, they would immediately pay down £5,000 and the remaining £7,500 as soon as the £20,000 was obtained. The £5,000 was claimed in December, 1916, owing firstly to the generosity of the President of the College, Lord Howard de Walden, who most kindly contributed £2,000, and secondly to the National Institute for the Blind, which through Sir Arthur Pearson allotted £5,000 to the College funds.

In forwarding the cheque, Sir Arthur Pearson remarked "During the last three years the National Institute for the Blind has been so fortunate as to enlist public sympathy and help to a gratifying extent, and we feel that the money entrusted to us by the public should, so far as possible, be expended in helping forward any object of general benefit to the blind community. We are very conscious of the extremely valuable work which the Royal Normal College has accomplished and are glad of the opportunity of enabling it to increase its sphere of usefulness."

Prize Festival.

Since the visit of Alderman Sir John Knill, Bt., in 1910, a Lord Mayor of London had not until this year attended the annual prize festival. The Rt. Hon. The Lord Mayor, Colonel Sir Charles Wakefield, Bt., accompanied by the Lady Mayoress, the Sheriffs, Sir G. A. Touche, M.P., Sir Samuel S. G. Shead, and Miss Shead, were received by the Rt. Hon. Hayes Fisher, P.C., M.P., on behalf of the Governing Body, and by the Principal, Mr. Guy M. Campbell. They were shown first to the boys' gymnasium, whence they proceeded to classes conducted in the open air. In the reading class the Lord Mayor recognised and greeted the two girls who read portions of Scripture at the last juvenile anniversary of the British and Foreign Bible Society at the Guildhall. There were demonstrations of roller-skating, swimming, typewriting and Braille shorthand. After the concert, the Lady Mayoress distributed the year's prizes.

The Lord Mayor, who presided, said he had a vivid recollection of the visit he paid to the College as one of the Sheriffs in 1907. Both then and now he was impressed by the happy faces and genial surroundings of the pupils. In one of the classes he had just heard a lady teacher giving dictation from the life of Milton. That particularly interested him, because Milton was born in Bread Street Ward, which he (the Lord Mayor) represented. Milton, as they all knew, was blind, and his spirit was, perhaps, hovering around the present gathering, for the communion of saints was a reality. He could not help thinking that the blind poet was close by, singing those grand songs that had gone down the corridor of the ages. He (the Lord Mayor) could not help realising that day that these children, although they had lost their sight, had gained an internal light, because love and affection beamed from their faces. He congratulated the management and staff upon being identified with work of that kind. To come there, and bring a little light into the lives of children less fortunate than themselves was a magnificent purpose. It had been a great privilege and pleasure to the Lady Mayoress to distribute the prizes. He had heard over and over again of the splendid work done by the children trained there—how successful they had become in typewriting, pianoforte tuning and other work of a similar kind. If the charitable public gave those children an opportunity, so that they could keep themselves and add to their self-respect, they were doing a splendid work.

On behalf of the civic party, Alderman and Sheriff Sir G. A. Touche, M.P., declared that his Shrieval colleague and himself would take away with them, just as the Lord Mayor did when he was Sheriff, many pictures, which they would hang on the hooks of memory, so that in days to come they could take them down and gaze at them anew. That was the first time he had visited an Institution for the young Blind, though he had long been familiar with the splendid work of the late Sir Francis Campbell, and of Mr. Guy Campbell. It appealed to him from a national point of view. It was good that those who were blind should be taught to support themselves as far as possible. It was good also for the Blind themselves that they should have occupation as it would add very greatly to their happiness in life. The nation had been extremely slow to recognise its duty to the Blind. After all, there were only 32,000 blind people in this country, and a great nation like ours should be able to succour them without the slightest difficulty.

The Rt. Hon. Hayes Fisher, P.C., M.P., in moving a vote of thanks to the Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress and the Sheriffs, assured them on behalf of the Executive Committee how greatly their visit was appreciated. The visit of the Lord Mayor was singularly well-timed, for the Institution needed encouragement at the present time. The war shadow was over so many institutions to-day, and the College had been hard hit by the war. If they could only stop the war for one minute and the money thus saved be given to them they would be able to pay off their debt of £3,000 to the Bankers, and the £2,000 owing on the new Pianoforte Tuning building which would ever be identified with the name of Queen Alexandra. He hoped that the Lord Mayor's visit would explode a mine of wealth which would put them out of their financial difficulties. He could not help feeling it very deeply that just as England seemed to be waking up to its duty towards the Blind that war should have prevented the report of the Government Departmental Committee being presented. He was Chairman of that Committee, but if its report was presented now, who would read it? Would its recommendations be acted upon, and would any Chancellor of the Exchequer find any money for anything except the war? So the report must be kept until such time as Parliament would be likely to give it sympathetic consideration. A new sense would arise. The triumph of right over wrong was coming, and he believed was coming very soon. Peace problems and not war problems would then be occupying the people, and then the report could go forward. Institutions like that should be spared having to go "round with the hat" in order to be able to carry on their work. Theirs was a national work for the good of the nation and the good of the people.

Mr. Guy Campbell, in seconding the vote of thanks, said he wished to ask the Lord Mayor whether the City of London should not be proud of the Blind College, which was a London Institution, although its grounds were in the Borough of Croydon. There was no just cause or impediment why the College should not be taken under the ægis of the City. There were some 32,000 blind in the country, and if every seeing man and woman would give just one penny a month as a thankoffering for their sight, it would provide a sum large enough to ensure the education of every young blind person and hostels for the old. This was the only nation that had not given State aid to the Blind.

Hearty cheers were given for the civic party, and the visitors then inspected the Pianoforte Tuning building, and witnessed a further exhibition of swimming and life-saving, smart work by the scouts, and a display of wand exercises.

The following members of the Upper Norwood Volunteers officiated as honorary stewards :—

Messrs. Bass, Eagles, Hodgson, Jackson, Longman, Madeley, Norvill, Stevens, Taylor and White.

Queen Alexandra Fund.

The Committee have again to most gratefully acknowledge the receipt of a further grant of £50 from the Queen Alexandra Rose Day Fund, and respectfully tender their most sincere thanks to Her Majesty Queen Alexandra for so graciously continuing to consider and approve their application.

Successes and Employment of Pupils.

During the year many pupils have been successful in the examinations of the Royal College of Organists, the Royal Academy of Music, the Associated Board of the Royal Academy of Music and the Royal College of Music, while three boys gained their proficiency Certificate from the Royal Life Saving Society for ability to rescue from drowning. One student passed the Arts Examination at Durham University and another the Preliminary Examination of the Board of Education.

It is more than gratifying to be able to report that no pupil who has graduated since issuing our report of last year is out of employment. Full details will be found in the Principal's Report.

In this connection it will be interesting to friends and supporters to learn that the firm of Messrs. Moutrie and Co., of Shanghai, who have already been employing two of our old graduates, Edmund Wellbelove and Cyril Harrison, for some years, were most anxious to secure another graduate of the College. The engagement was for five years and the remuneration offered equal to that given to their sighted tuners. On the 14th May, William Whitehead started his long journey. From letters received since, the Committee learn that he had a very interesting voyage, and is giving every satisfaction to the firm.

At the present time six firms in London are employing our graduates, while many other firms are doing the same in the provinces.

Gardner Trust.

The College Committee desire again to express their deep indebtedness to the Gardner Trust for continuing their generous help in granting Scholarships.

The Gardner Trust have generously responded to an application for a grant in connection with the Musical Department.

Staff.

Every member of the Staff, Musical, Scholastic, Domestic and Office, continues to devote zeal, energy, and loyal enthusiasm to their work.

Mr. Black, head of the Typewriting Department, who joined our staff twenty-four years ago, received last summer a request from Sir Arthur Pearson to assist with the Blinded Soldiers at St. Dunstan's; he is now the Superintendent of the Men's Settlement Department. In addition to zealously carrying out all duties assigned him, Mr. Black organized and developed the work of the Typewriting Department to a state of perfection never before deemed possible for the blind, and has thereby set a standard of efficiency for all blind typists. No finer tribute could have been paid to a member of the College staff than that Sir Arthur realized this was the man he wanted and no better man could possibly be found for the task. The Committee feel keenly the loss of so valued a member, who by his enthusiasm, his loyalty and his gift for teaching, had won the esteem of everyone, but they equally appreciate that their loss is, in this larger field of activity now opened to Mr. Black, a gain to the blind.

Mr. Barker, who resigned in July, has been succeeded by Mr. Mantle, for many years employed by the firm of Messrs. Brinsmead.

Miss Martin has been replaced by Miss Spencer, but in the summer holidays she felt compelled to offer her services as a nurse. She is hoping to return to us after the war. Meanwhile her aunt, Miss Heatley, is acting as her deputy.

Mr. Andrew Fraser, one of our Singing Professors, has joined the Concert Party from the National Institute for the Blind for a period of twelve months from November.

Two members of the outdoor staff, Tom Wickenden and Albert Barlow, joined His Majesty's forces early in the year. The former is now in France.

Training College Practice.

The Committee desire to place on record their appreciation of the kindness of the London County Council in granting facilities for the Training College Students to have the opportunity of practising with large classes at the Boundary Lane and Shillington Street Schools.

Piano Player Tuning.

Gratefully do the Committee acknowledge the generosity of Sir Arthur Pearson, Bt., in providing an Angelus Piano Player, so that the students in the Tuning Department may become familiar with the working of such instruments. Experience is showing that tuners unable to tune players as well as ordinary pianos, will have very little opportunity of securing first-class employment.

Boy Scouts.

In July, Lieut.-General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, accompanied by Lady Baden-Powell, inspected over a thousand boy scouts in the grounds of Combe House, Croydon. A Patrol from the College Troop of Scouts acted as the Guard of Honour, and were congratulated by Sir Robert on their smart appearance and the way in which they formed seats and bandaged each other, afterwards being entertained to tea in Sir Robert Baden-Powell's tent. Although there are several blind Scout Troops in the country, this is the first occasion on which they have taken part with their sighted companions in "a district rally."

During the past year nine members of the troup gained the 2nd Class Scout Badge, while nineteen Proficiency Badges were earned, including Basket-worker, Clerk, Electrician, Musician, Naturalist, and Rescuer Badges. Patrol-Leader J. Farenden, having passed the necessary tests, was granted his Assistant-Scoutmaster's Warrant, being the first blind Scout to attain this rank.

Appeal.

The Carnegie Trust have laid the foundation for the Endowment of the College, but in order that their building may be completed, it is essential that each and every member of the community should realise that the work which is carried on is of National importance, and that their silver bullets are as urgently required for the blind as for the seeing.

Will you be 1 of 20 to give £1000 ?
Or 1 of 40 to give £500 ?
Or 1 of 200 to give £100 ?

Those who are interested in such charitable work as ours have, during the last two and a half years, had innumerable and urgent appeals for assistance to wounded and disabled sailors and soldiers. The Committee most earnestly hope that the needs of those who have been disabled in the battle of life in so terribly serious a manner as by the loss of their sight will not be overlooked. Everybody is not in a position to contribute large sums now-a-days, but everybody who has sympathy with the Blind who are trying to make themselves efficient citizens, can help them to attain this object by collecting among friends or organising concerts, bazaars or fêtes. Were each reader of this report to determine to make an effort of this kind the financial help of which we are so urgently in need would be easily obtained, and the Committee make a most earnest appeal for assistance of this description.

Signed on behalf of the Committee,
LAMINGTON, Chairman.

Principal's Annual Report.

The College commenced work in January with 115 pupils, and closed in December with 120, viz.: 80 males and 40 females, divided as follows:— Pupils.

	Under 16.	Over 16.	Total.
Boys	21	58	79
Girls	11	26	37
Training College	—	4	4
			— 120
Admitted during 1916 ..	15	24	39

The health of the pupils has been very good, except for an epidemic of influenza in the months of January and February.

It is with great regret the passing away of Thomas Teale in September has to be reported. This young man graduated at Easter, and found employment immediately with a London Firm as a pianoforte tuner, and from reports received it is certain he was giving satisfaction to his employers. His death was due to pneumonia contracted while attending to his mother in her last illness. Teale, during his residence at the College, was always hard-working, painstaking and reliable, ever anxious to live up to the highest ideals. Obituary.

Lectures, Recitals, &c.

Scholarship Examinations.—The Examinations for these Scholarships are held three times a year, viz.: in the first week of March, July and December. Successful Candidates enter the College as "Probationers" in the Term following.

Candidates will be required to read and write Braille with facility and correctness; be well grounded in Arithmetic, History, and Geography, and be able to write an essay on any ordinary subject. The above subjects are essential, but credit will be given for knowledge of any standard book in prose or poetry, as well as practical acquaintance with other subjects.

In the case of a Candidate who has become blind after the age of sixteen and not had the opportunity of acquiring a knowledge of Braille since losing his sight, evidence of ability to acquire that knowledge will be regarded as satisfactory.

It is most important that parents and friends should enter intending Candidates for examination at the earliest moment possible, as successful Candidates are admitted strictly in the order in which their names are received.

Pianoforte Tuning Department.—The College has Certificated Piano Tuners with practical experience in its employ, for whom the Authorities are seeking employment. All orders for tuning will receive prompt and careful attention. For particulars, address: ROYAL NORMAL COLLEGE, "TUNING DEPARTMENT," UPPER NORWOOD, S.E. 19.

The Typewriting Department is prepared to execute rapidly and accurately all descriptions of typewriting and duplicating. For estimates apply ROYAL NORMAL COLLEGE, "TYPEWRITING DEPARTMENT," UPPER NORWOOD, S.E. 19.

The following Testimonials have been selected from many others received:—

I am pleased to state that the work is quite satisfactory—in fact the best of the kind that we have ever had. I shall most certainly send you any further work of this sort that I may have and shall make known as widely as possible the first class way in which you turn out orders." J. J. S.

"I have received the papers and am much pleased with them." W. E. R.

". . . . I have again to thank you for the excellent way in which the work is done. I cannot find any mistake in any of the three plays which your girls have done, and I shall not hesitate to recommend your typing and to speak in the highest terms of the efficiency of the work." F. R. C.

REGULATIONS FOR VISITING THE COLLEGE.

The College is situated at Upper Norwood. The principal entrance is in Westow Street. An outline Map, showing the position of the College and of the different Railway Stations in the neighbourhood, will be found on the next page.

The regular Visitors' Day is the first Thursday afternoon in each month, except during January, April, August, and September. Visitors will have an opportunity of inspecting the various departments from 3.15 to 5.15 p.m.

Parents or friends may visit the pupils on the first Wednesday in the month, between 3 and 5.30 p.m. If, for any special reason, parents wish to see their children at other times, they should write to the Principal for an appointment. As a rule, it is not expected that more than two friends will visit any pupil on the same afternoon. When visiting the College, parents are earnestly requested not to bring young children with them.

The Principal can be seen on business by appointment.

Friends cannot visit the pupils on Sunday; this rule is strictly enforced. Parents are specially requested not to bring or send sweets or eatables to the children. If the children go out with their parents, they must not undertake commissions for other pupils.

INFORMATION FOR INTENDING CONTRIBUTORS.

Annual Subscriptions, Donations, and Legacies are earnestly requested, and will be thankfully received by the Hon. Treasurer or by the Principal, at the College.

Cheques and Post Office Orders should be crossed Messrs. Barclay & Co., Limited, and may be drawn in favour of the Hon. Treasurer, or the Principal, Guy M. Campbell, Esq., F.C.T.B., F.R.G.S.

The Principal will be happy to furnish any further information, and to forward copies of reports and various papers to all who may be willing to assist in bringing the claims of the College to the notice of the public.
